

Fascinating Folktales of Punjab – 1,2,3,4&5:
Illustrated Children’s Folktales from Punjab in Punjabi, English and Romanized Punjabi

Nov. 2014 – Roswell, GA, U.S.A – Fascinating Folktales of Punjab-1,2,3,4&5 is a set of five board books created to appeal to children of all ages while preserving the ancient folk stories from Punjab, both in Punjabi and in English. This is Gurmeet Kaur’s first children’s book set.

- The five board books are printed on child-friendly, heavy, laminated art-board (7 by 7 inches), with soy-based inks.
- The ninety-two illustrated pages in rich, vibrant colors make the characters come to life.
- Each story is presented poetically and has a moral. English translation and Romanized Punjabi versions are included.
- Enriching and fun activity books are available to download and included with the purchase.

About Fascinating Folktales of Punjab:

The project is dedicated to publishing high quality Punjabi folk literature for children that is fun, educational and inspiring. The project aims to connect the children to Punjabi language and Gurmukhi script from a very early age while bringing the stories that are being forgotten back to life.
